To Whom It May Concern.

Richard Meinsen has been a valued technical reviewer for Manning Publications for more than a decade. During that time, he has provided thoughtful, constructive feedback on book proposals, developing manuscripts, and other publishing initiatives across a wide range of technical topics.

Richard combines deep technical knowledge with a genuine curiosity for emerging technologies. His reviews are consistently thorough, insightful, and well-reasoned, and his professionalism and reliability have made him a trusted member of our reviewer community.

We sincerely appreciate Richard's long-standing contributions to Manning Publications and value the expertise and care he brings to every project.

Sincerely,
Suresh Jain
